POSITIVE ARABIC WAS TORPEDOED

Capt. Finch States Suggestion that Mine Sunk Ship is Absurd

U. S. SEEKS DETAILS

White House Announces Course Will Be Determined When All Facts Can Be Ascertained

INFORMATION FRAGMENTARY

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 23—Captain William Finch of the sunken steamer Arabic tonight gave The Associated Press a statement bearing on the cabled reports that some German officials claimed there was no proof that the Arabic had been sunk by a German submarine and that she might have met with disaster by running into a British mine.

"Fired Upon Deliberately"

"There is not the slightest doubt that the Arabic was sunk by a torpedo", said Captain Finch. "Neither is there the slightest doubt that she was fired upon deliberately. It is quite true that we never saw any submarine or any periscope; but I saw the white streak made by the passage of the torpedo through the water—a white streak that commenced with air bubbles in the water 300 yards from us at the point where it was discharged.

"There was no mistaking of the cause of that white streak, which ended in a torpedo entering the ship and causing the explosion which sank the vessel. I was not alone in seeing it. The chief officer, the second officer and many passengers saw it. No one can doubt for a moment that the torpedo was deliberately fired at the Arabic. Those aboard the submarine evidently saw us and got into a position ready to release their torpedo.

"The fact that no one on the Arabic saw a submarine may be easily explained. Those in command of it could submerge and leave only a small portion of the periscope showing above the water. When the missile was sent at us, under such circumstances, it would be impossible for those on the Arabic to see either the submarine or the periscope.

Term Suggestion Absurd.

"The suggestion that a mine caused the explosion is absurd. I repeat that there was only one thing that sent the Arabic to the bottom. That was a torpedo which left a clear white mark in the water 300 yards in length."

Captain Finch was seen at his home in Liverpool where he had just arrived from Queenstown for a conference with the officials of the White Star line.

Detailed Information Lacking.

Washington, Aug. 23—Four days have passed since a German submarine sunk the White Star liner Arabic with the loss of two American lives and the American government still is without the detailed and official information necessary to shape ts course.

The only notable development today was a break in the official silence which has surrounded the white house. Secretary Tumulty, after conferring with President Wilson, issued this statement:

"As soon as all the facts regarding the Arabic are ascertained our course of action will be determined."

Secretary Lansing asserted that all the information so far in the hands of the state department was fragmentary and that details still were being sought.

Ask That Summary Be Cabled.

Ambassador Page at London who had forwarded by mail a detailed statement including some affidavits of American survivors was instructed to send immediately a summary by cable. Some despatches were received from him but they were not made public but it was understood the department was unwilling to give out material it considered incomplete. Official quarters reflected the strain which surely grows as no word comes from the German government.

The United States clearly had expressed its opposition to destruction of merchant ships without warning and had pointedly warned Germany against repetition of such tragedies in which Americans are involved. In the opinion of state department officials it is not now incumbent upon the American government to ask Germany for an excuse for the conduct of the submarine commander who sunk the Arabic.

It is assumed that unless Germany wishes to make an outright issue with the United States some explanation will be volunteered.

Acting with that thought Ambassador Gerard was instructed today to report whether he had received a report from the German government on the sinking of the Arabic. He was not, however, instructed to ask for one.

Will Not Invite Argument.

It is said the state department will not necessarily wait indefinitely on Germany before taking whatever action is decided upon. Neither does it intend to invite or encourage argument. All it wants now are the facts.

When these are assembled and officials are convinced their evidence is properly substantiated President Wilson will lay the case before the cabinet. No meeting has been called for tomorrow, a regular cabinet day, and all the cabinet members but three are out of the city.

Several days more may pass before there is a definite development. Meanwhile the situation remains unchanged with President Wilson and his advisers waiting and preparing to act as the situation may demand.

Point to Contradiction.

Berlin, Aug. 23—By Wireless to Sayville—"Naval circles call attention to a remarkable contradiction in the English press reports regarding the Arabic", says the Overseas News Agency today.

"One report says that the passengers and crew received life belts when the steamer entered the danger zone. This statement is declared to be nonsenseical because, it is pointed out, a vessel leaving Liverpool is at once in the danger zone. However, the distribution of life belts, it is argued, admits of the conclusion that the steamer's captain, obeying admiralty orders and spurred on by a high money reward, intended to ram the submarine as soon as it was sighted.

"Oeher reports state explicitely that no submarine or torpedo was sighted, permitting an assumption that the ship struck a lose mine all this showing the necessity for awaiting the official report."

GOVERNOR CONFERENCE OPENS AT BOSTON

UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE AWAITS PRESENT AND FORMER STATE HEADS

Are to Be Objects of a Supposed Torpedo Attack in Connection with a Review of the North Atlantic Fleet Off Boston Light Today.

Boston, Aug. 23.—An unusual experience awaits the governors and former state executives who are to attend the annual sessions of the conference of governors of the United States which opens here tomorrow. They are to be the objects of a supposed torpedo attack in connection with a review of the North Atlantic fleet off Boston light next Wednesday.

The governors are to board the battleship Wyoming, together with Secretary of the Navy Daniels. As the fleet passes before them, one of the destroyers will launch a torpedo, the course of which is to be arranged so that the governors may watch it from its start until its power is exhausted before it reaches its mark. In the meantime battleships and destroyers will go through battle maneuvers.

The fleet left Newport, R. I., this morning and is expected off Boston light sometime tomorrow.

Seven state executives and six former governors arrived tonight. They were Governors Arthur Capper, of Kansas; William Spry, of Utah; Roland Spaulding, of New Hampshire; Frank M. Byrne, of South Dakota; Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia; Richard I. Manning, of South Carolina, and Robert L. Williams, of Oklahoma; and former governors Samuel D. Felker, of New Hampshire; Joseph M. Carey, of Wyoming; A. W. Gilchrist, of Florida; Frances E. McCovern, of Wisconsin, and Alva Adams and Elias M. Ammons, of Colorado.

The business sessions of the conference will be given over to papers and discussions on national preparedness, state economics, duties of governors, conservation of resources and the short ballot.

BRITISH ORDER MAY CAUSE REDRAFTING OF AMERICAN NOTE

Probably Will Treat at Length the Question of Validity of Order Making Cotton Contraband.

Washington, Aug. 23—The new American note to Great Britain in interferences with neutral trade probably will be redrafted because of the British order making cotton contraband.

The note virtually had been completed. It now will be altered and probably will treat at length the question of the validity under international law of Great Britain's latest action.

While there is no intention to abandon the claims for payment for cotton seized prior to the British order those cases now have a different status and a complete record of this phase of the dispute can be prepared and presented. Cases under the contraband order must all go before British prize courts and there will be no informal negotiations as there has been in connection with the previous seizures.

The new American note, it is understood, will lodge formal protest against the placing of cotton on the contraband list and a lengthy diplomatic exchange probably will follow. It is considered likely by some officials here that the dispute eventually will be settled by arbitration.

CANNING PLANT BURNS.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 23—The Kokomo Canning company's plant was destroyed by fire today. The loss is estimated at $110,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

GERMANS LOSE ELEVEN WARSHIPS

Russ Report Sinking or Crippling of German Craft in Gulf of Riga

OCCUPY OSSOWETZ

German Land Success Leaves Only Grodno and Brest-Litovsk in the Central Section

BRITISH BOMBARD ZEEBRUGGE

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Petrograd says:

"In addition to the German losses previously reported in the Riga battle, a German submarine was run ashore on the coast of Dago Island (in the Baltic sea just outside the gulf of Riga) and doubtless also is lost."

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The German naval reverses in the Gulf of Riga and the Baltic Sea, the German success in occupying the fortress of Ossowetz and a British naval bombardment of the German naval base at Zeebrugge today furnished a series of news features which temporarily diverted attention from the gravity of the issues growing out of the sinking of the White Star Liner Arabic by a German submarine.

Cause Enthusiasm in England.

The German version of the Riga battle has not yet been given out, but the definiteness of the official Russian report on the sinking or crippling of the German super-dreadnaught, Moltke, two other cruisers and eight torpedo boats has sent a wave of enthusiasm throughout the country and dispelled the depression over the Russian retreat on land.

Aside from the loss of the German ships, the naval engagement is regarded chiefly important for the strategic effect upon the land operations in the German sweep eastward toward Petrograd, which military observers now consider as having been checked and possibly defeated altogether.

Press Forward Steadily.

The German center has pressed forward steadily until Prince Leopold of Bavaria is near the Russian new line of defense but the military observers say that the entire campaign hinged on the vast enveloping movement of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's forces in the north. They had succeeded in pushing far beyond Riga to Jacobstadt on the Dvina but the Russians hold on the Gulf of Riga and of the great naval base of Riga was a continual menace in Von Hindenburg's rear.

This, the military observers say, led to the shifting of a number of German first line ships, including the Moltke, from the north sea to the Baltic with the purpose of controlling Riga and thus protecting a German land advance on Petrograd.

Menace Von Hindenburg's Advance.

The result of the naval battle, as gleaned from the official report appears definitely to have defeated the German objective, according to the observers, who say that aside from the loss of the ships the gulf and the naval base of Riga are still in Russian hands and menace Von Hindenburg's further advance toward Petrograd.

The capture by the Germans of the fortress of Ossowetz gives them another stronghold, only Grodno and Brest-Litovsk remaining in the central section. It also gives them the main point on the railway to Bielsk and Brest-Litovsk.

Special reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian position at Brest-Litovsk gradually is becoming untenable and that the public is being prepared for its abandonment.

Receive Only Meager Details.

Only meager details have been received concerning the British bombardment of the German submarine base at Zeebrugge and neighboring points on the Belgian coast. Berlin reports that forty British ships were engaged but the British admiralty as yet has made no statement. The firing lasted several hours.

That there has been French naval activity in the same locality is shown in a Paris official communication which announces the sinking of a German torpedo boat destroyer off Ostend by two French torpedo boats.

BUILD ENTRENCHMENTS OPPOSITE BROWNSVILLE

ACTION OF MEXICANS CAUSES MUCH SPECULATION

Border Patrols Are Equipped With Sandbags for Use in Event of Firing From Across River—Charge Mexican With Buying Ammunition From U. S. Soldiers.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 23—Entrenchments thrown up Sunday night on the Mexican side of the border in the rear of Fort Brown caused much speculation today.

American troops from Fort Brown who are on guard duty at the international bridge have been provided withs and bagsf or use in the event of firing from across the river. Other border patrols along the river are said to have been similarly equipped.

Indiscriminating inspection of the heavy artillery recently brought here from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, was stopped today by an order which ruled that the guns cannot be viewed hereafter without a permit.

Charge Purchase of Ammunition.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 23—Jesus Real, a Mexican, was arrested today and held for preliminary hearing before the United States commissioner on the charge of purchasing ammunition from soldiers of the United States army. During the past three weeks several thousand rounds of rifle ammunition belonging to the Sixteenth Infantry, had disappeared. Investigation is said to have disclosed that the soldiers were selling cartridges to Mexicans who in turn disposed of them to the revolutionary factions. A number of the soldiers are under arrest in connection with the case.

No Anti-Foreign Demonstrations.

Washington, Aug. 23—Rear Admiral McLean, commanding American naval forces in Mexican waters, sent a wireless report to the navy department today on conditions at Vera Cruz. He said no further anti-foreign demonstration had occurred since the arrival of the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire.

The Carranza agency here tonight gave out despatches from Vera Cruz stating that telegraphic communication had been open since August 18 between Vera Cruz and Mexico City and as far north as Fresnillo, a town immediately south of Torreon. It was said that wire connection also had been restored with San Luis Potosi, Monterey, Neuvo Laredo, Tampico, Matamoros, Guadalajara, Manzanillo and other important points.

In Mexico City the dispatches said, quiet prevailed and normal commercial and industrial conditions had been restored. The wireless plant at the capital had been put in working order.

PREPARE TO AID COTTON GROWERS

M'Adoo Will Deposit $30,000,000 in Southern Banks If Necessary

URGES LOW INTEREST

Secretary Believes There Is No Occasion for Alarm About the Future of Cotton

HOPES FOR ENLARGED CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Treasury officials tonight made public an announcement by Secretary McAdoo that in view of the action of the allies in putting cotton on the contraband list, he would, if it became necessary deposit $30,000,000 or more in gold in the federal reserve banks at Atlanta, Dallas and Richmond for the purpose of enabling the reserve banks to re-discount loans on cotton secured by warehouse receipts made by national banks and state banks belonging to the federal reserve system.

To Be Deposited Without Interest.

The gold will be deposited, temporarily at least, without interest charge. It was explained that if it appeared that the object could be accomplished with greater efficiency thereby, the deposits would be made directly with national banks, agreeing to lend the money on cotton on a rate not to exceed six per cent.

Secretary McAdoo's announcement came at the close of a day of speculation in official circles as to the nature of steps which the entente powers have indicated they will take to uphold the cotton market in the face of their contraband order.

Hopes for Enlarged Credit.

The secretary said that one of his chief objects wasto create a basis for such enlarged credit in the south that the banks will have ample resources to extend to producers such accommodations that they will be able to carry cotton in warehouses for a reasonable length of time until it can be marketed advantageously.

In order to accomplish this Mr McAdoo said that the national and state banks, which are members of the federal reserve system, should make loans on warehouse receipts for insured cotton at low rates of interest; that the banks can well afford to carry cotton for producers at six per cent, especially if they are able to re-discount cotton paper at the federal reserve banks at a much lower rate than six per cent; that the credit resources of the banks of the country are greater than ever before in our history and that there is no reason why the banks should not in co-operation with the merchants of the south, help the cotton producers with loans at low rates in the present peculiar situation.

Expects Board to Co-Operate.

The federal reserve board, the secretary said, had a right to determine the rate of interest which the federal reserve banks can charge member banks on notes or loans secured by insured and warehoused cotton rediscounted with federal reserve banks. He has been unable to consult his colleagues on the federal reserve board on account of his absence from Washington but feels confident of their co-operation in every reasonable way.

The secretary declared he believed that there was no occasion for alarm about the future of cotton and that if the bankers and merchants would co-operate with each other and with the cotton producers of the south in a spirit of patriotism and mutual regard for each others' welfare the situation could be handled with happy results to all concerned. He expressed the earnest hope that this would be done.

FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING STEAMER

THREE SHIPS FIND NOTHING TO INDICATE FATE OF MAROWIJNE

Center of Tropical Hurricane Crossed Course Which Steamer Was Following—Was Due in New Orleans Last Monday.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 23.—Capt. Baxter, of the steamer Abangarez, sent in search of the overdue United Fruit Liner Marowijne, notified the company by wireless that he had seen nor heard nothing of the missing vessel.

Later the captain of the steamer Cartago, which co-operated with the Abangarez in the search of the Cuban coast, sent a similar report by wireless. The liner Coppename, which arrived here today from Belize, skirted the Mexican coast but Capt. Whidden reported that he had found nothing that would indicate the fate of the ship.

Capt. Whidden on his way south to Belize, exchanged radio messages with the Marowijne the day after the latter left Belize. He was in communication with the steamer until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon when the exchange of messages ceased because of the failure of the radio operator on the Marowijne to respond to calls from the Coppename. Shortly before that time Capt. McLaren of the Marowijne had reported all well aboard.

The center of the tropical hurricane reached the Yucatan channel late that day and crossed directly the course which the Marowijne was following, Capt. Whidden said. The vessel then should have been in the narrowest and most treacherous part of the passage.

Kellogg, better known as "Madame Brownie" who conducted a resort in this city for fifty years.

An assault was made upon the ageod woman by Metzger, a warrant sworn out by the sheriff's office alleged, but the grand jury failed to indict him.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 23.—Petitions were circulated in Parkersburg and a number of other cities in the state today calling on Governor Henry H. Hatfield to convene the legislature in special session for the purpose of repealing the Yost liquor prohibitory law which became operative last year. Two special sessions of this legislature already have been held.

GERMANY TO APOLOGIZE.

London, Aug. 24.—Germany's reply to Denmark's protest against the firing on the British submarine E-13 by a German torpedo boat while the E-13 lay grounded on the Danish Island of Saltholm will be an unreserved apology, according to information received by the Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent in Copenhagen. Forteen of the British sailors are said to have been killed in the attack.

TWENTY HURT IN WRECK.

Centerville, Ia., Aug. 23.—Twenty persons were injured, one seriously, when two interurban cars collided near here last night. Miss Beulah Metcalf, of Blandinville, Ill., sustained a broken collar bone. The injuries of the others were slight.

FLOOD THREATENS FIVE THOUSAND

Population of Newport, Ark., Is in Desperate Straits

EIGHT PERSONS DROWN

Town is Inundated to a Depth Ranging from Five to Twelve Feet—Levees Give Way

STEAMBOATS RESCUE MANY

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 23.—Five thousand people in the town of Newport, Ark., tonight are threatened by the flood waters of White river. According to a telephone message received here the populace is in desperate straits. Eight persons are reported to have lost their lives.

The town is inundated to a depth ranging from five to twelve feet and most of the population has sought refuge in the upper floors of the hotels and the court house.

Levees Protecting Town Break.

Because of recent heavy rains the river rose to such an extent that all of the levees protecting the town gave way early today, letting loose one of the most disastrous floods in the history of the community. Two steamboats continued making trips up and down the river in the vicinity of Newport and succeeded in rescuing a number of families from the roofs of houses, whither they had gone to escape the flood. Finally the flood became too great and the boats had to withdraw.

All communication with the town, save the telephone wire, has been destroyed and it was feared tonight that before morning even the telephone wire would be gone. Several passenger trains are stalled at Newport.

Consider Situation Grave.

With food and water supplies all but exhausted and with many refugees in the town from other points along the river the situation was one which authorities here considered very grave.

Reports were received of appeals for help from residents below Newport where, it was said, other drownings had occurred. These, however, could not be confirmed. The river, although rising slowly tonight was expected to begin falling tomorrow mornig.

Believed All Escaped.

St. Louis, Aug. 23.—The receding of the flood of the Meramac river today failed to substantiate reports to the coroner of St. Louis county that twelve persons were drowned Sunday when the river rose to the highest mark ever recorded and it now is thought that none perished in the overflow.

It is impossible to estimate accurately the property damage from the floods of the Meramec and other Ozark mountain streams but a large area of farm land in eastern and southeastern Missouri is under water; and the greater part of the town of Valley Park, nineteen miles from St. Louis is inundated.

Thirty-five hundred persons in Valley Park were made homeless Sunday and this afternoon a relief committee headed by D. K. Albright, voted to appeal to Governor Major for aid. Mr. Albright said $100,000 was needed for the relief of the destitute.

Children Become Ill.

Several children among the refugees today became ill and as all the drugstores in Valley Park were flooded, physicians hurried to St. Louis for medicines.

Through railroad service tonight out of St. Louis was disturbed as a result of floods. No through trains were running over the St. Louis & San Francisco, the Missouri Pacific, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific or the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern.

The election is to be held Tuesday, Sept. 21. The present city officers have served less than four months. Certainly in fairness no one can say that there has thus far been a display of inefficiency to justify the proposed radical action, a change to the old form of government. That change should be made only after sufficient time has elapsed to prove that the commission form of government plan is a failure.

The time was when golf was concidered a rich man's game. But that day is gone and especially is this true in Jacksonville with the advent of a free course at Nichols park. It was fitting that the course should be laid out Monday while health talks were being given at the chautauqua for golf is acknowledged to be one of the greatest aids to general health. On the new course, anybody can play, subject only to certain regulations which the park board will adopt and the links make a very desirable addition to the park facilities.

The right of a newspaper editor to define a course of conduct for a judge is the issue raised by Judge Clifton C. Shinn, of the Common Pleas court, in the contempt proceedings brought by him against the editor of the Atlantic City Press. The judge took exception to an editorial taking him to task for inference for failure to cause an investigation of alleged charges against a local magistrate. The editor disclaimed auy intention to criticise the court while Judge Shinn maintained that he should have been personally interviewed. The case is still on trial.

The Plight of Armenia.

According to the statement of the Armenian Relief Fund committee with offices in the United Charities building New York City the Armenians have been among the greatest sufferers by the European war. The statement says their condition is even worse than that of the Belgians. Massacres by the Kurds and Turks have again broken out, accompanied with atrocities. A multitude of Armenians whose homes had been ruined and burned have fled across the frontiers from Turkey and Persia into Russia. There are about 100,000 of these refugees, most of them women and children. "Never in my life have I seen such suffering", writes Tolstoy's daughter Alexandra, who is serving with the Red Cross near the frontier. Some of the refugees in her hospital had had their hands and feet cut off. All were emaciated and in tatters. They are not only destitute but broken-hearted, many having seen their husbands and children slaughtered before their eyes. According to a later dispatch from Tiflis, under date of August 10th, 255,000 Armenians have abandoned their country with the retreating Russian army, and are taking refuge in Trans-Caucasia.

In Turkey, where every able bodied man has been forced into the army, the condition of the women and children is even worse, the ravages of famine and pestilence being added to those of Kurdish savagery. In one town not a grown person was found, only 500 orphans.

Speaking of the Christian population of these regions, a circular of the American Board of Foreign Missions, under date of August 4, says: "The suffering among them is beyond description and the need of help immediate and overwhelming."

When Washington Was Sacked

While the sacking of cities in Europe has shocked the sensibilities of Americans durng the past year, it has not been forgotten by Washingtonians that the capital of the United States was itself the scene of equally destructive vandalism 101 years ago today. It was not a proud day for either England or America when the five thousand British raiders destroyed Washington. For President Madison with his wife and cabinet, was forced to flee into the country and go into hiding. Valuable records were hurriedly loaded into wagons and hidden in mills and cellars in Virginia and Maryland.

The War of 1812 had been waged for two years, when a fleet of sixty British warships entered Chesapeake Bay. In command was Admiral Cockburn and General Ross. The defense of Washington by the American troops was made at Bladensburg, but through interference with the plans of General Winder and his staff, the efficiency of the small force was reduced to woeful disorder.

The British troopers entered Washington on the afternoon of August 24, 1814, and at once began the pillage. The unfinished capitol, the arsenal, the White House, the barracks, the treasury building and other public structures were burned.

Before midnight the invaders had done their work, and began to withdraw. As they passed the grave of George Washington at Mount Vernon, Admiral Cockburn halted his command and made them stand reverently with uncovered heads, while the British standards were dipped in honor of the patriot's memory.

The entire country was aroused over the act of the British commanders in sacking the city of Washington. The war was pushed with unusual bitterness and forced to a successful conclusion. It was another instance when America aroused herself to the evils confronting any conquest on her shores.

The Junior High School.

Reorganization of education under the junior high school plan or something similar is definitely under way, according to Prof. T. H. Briggs, whose review of secondary education has just been issued by the U. S. bureau of education.

The junior high school has been defined "as an organization of grades 7 and 8 or 7 and 9 to provide means for individual differences, especially by an earlier introduction of prevocational work and of subjects usually taught in the high school." There are now 57 cities in the United States where junior high schools are organized in unmistakable form.

"One advantage claimed for the junior high school," declares Dr. Briggs, "is that it groups children so that subjects seldom taught in the grammar grades may be introduced, thereby giving each pupil a more intelligent understanding of the work of the world, of the possibilities in the subject and in the pupil himself.

"The junior high school also makes easier the transition of pupils to the high school. That the change between the elementary and the high school should be so sharp permits no justification. To bridge this gap by earlier introduction to high school subjects and methods of teaching has greatly improved results, it is claimed."

The statistics given by Dr. Briggs show that a much larger per cent. of students enter high school where junior high schools exist than before they were organized.

That the junior high school furnishes an opportunity for various needed reforms in instruction is the final claim of the new movement, according to Dr. Briggs. He points out that in the junior high school a course of study based on the newer principles of psychology, sociology, and economics, various provisions for individual differences, and especially an improved method of teaching, can now be introduced.

Interfered With Service.

The failure of the democrats to pass the postoffice appropriation bill in the last congress has crippled the rural free delivery service.

Members of congress declare that complaints they are receiving from both rural carriers and patrons have been mode numerous and bitter in the last few months than for years before.

Rural carriers claim that they have suffered chiefly on two counts; one that although they are under civil service, there have been hundreds of dismissals without just cause; the other that their routes have been lengthenerd and their work increased wit hout additional pay. The complaints from patrons of the rural routes are uniformly based upon sweeping reductions in the service.

The conditions causing these complaints are due to the failure of the postoffice appropriation bill and the consequent necessity for managing the postal service under a re-enactment of last year's appropriation.

The principal changes ordered by the department reducing the carrier force arise, first, by the proposed consolidation of about 1500 routes 25 miles long into half that number 50 miles long; second, in lengthening the standard routes and still farther reducing the carrier force; third by making one carrier serve two routes on alternate days, and dropping the extra carrier. It is estimated that more than two thousand rural carriers have lost their places under these reductions.

Mass meetaings of patrons have been held in many localities protesting against the demoralization of their service.

WILLIAM H. LEDFERD REACHED GREAT AGE WHEN DEATH CAME

Long Time Resident of the County Was Born More Than Ninety-Two Years Ago — End Came Sunday Morning—Funeral Will Be Held Today.

When William H. Ledferd passed peacefully to the other shore Sunday morning at the home of his son, F. L. Ledferd, a life of unusual length and great usefulness came to a close. Mr. Ledferd was more than ninety-two years of age and more than fifty years of that long period had been spent in this county. He was a man of unostentatious habits but strong in principle and he followed strictly in the path of duty no matter what the difficulties presented.

His funeral will be held this morning at the very time that a reunion of old settlers is in progress and will serve as a commentary on the fact that the long time residents of Morgan county are rapidly fading away.

Mr. Ledferd was a good and useful citizen and now that his long life's journey is over there are many who can testify to the kindly spirit which dominated him all the way.

William Henry Ledferd was born in Salem, N. C., May 6, 1823, and died Aug. 23, 1915, aged 92 years, 3 months and 16 days.

He was married Nov. 16, 1848 to Julia F. Chamberlain, of this city, and to this union eight children were born, all of whom reached manhood and womanhood.

The following children have preceeded him in death: Mary H. Tunison George Ledferd and Fannie M. Ledferd.

On Dec. 4, 1912, the union of 64 years of happy married life was broken by the death of his beloved wife. And since that time Mr. Ledferd has made his home with his children.

Mr. Ledferd was actively engaged in farming east of the city some forty years but about fifteen years ago he moved to Jacksonville where he has since resided.

The deceased has been active in church work practically all his life and for the past 50 years has been a devoted member of Salem M. E. church east of the city.

The Ledferd family is among the oldest and most respected in Morgan county and Mr. Ledferd's life was above reproach.

Mr. Ledferd had been in failing health for only three months but for the past month had been confined to his bed at the home of his son, F. L. Ledferd, on Lafayette avenue, where he peacefully passed away at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

The surviving children are William C. Ledferd, Mrs. Emma J. Corrington and F. L. Ledferd, all of Jacksonville, Mrs. George M. Graff, of Orleans, Ill., and Charles H. Ledferd, of Atlanta, Ga.

The funeral will take place at 10:30 o'clock this morning at Centenary church and interment in East cemetery.

Are you a good guesser?

The General says:—No man living can take three different kinds of Roofing and determine in advance by such tests as bending, twisting, tearing, or smelling, how long each will last on the roof. The best you can do is to make a guess. That is why is guaranteed by us 5, 10 or 15 years according to whether the thickness is 1, 2 or 3 ply. Most roofings look alike, and even trained chemists can judge roofing quality only by the raw materials that are put into the roofing and not from the finished product.

The responsibility of the biggest Roofing and Building Paper Mills in the world stands behind our guarantee and this makes it unnecessary for you to take the risk of guessing.

PRES. C. H. RAMMELKAMP SILENT ON BIG BEAR STORY

Says He Will Leave Narration of Experiences to Other Members of Party Yet to Return—Find Can 'Cashed" Ten Years Ago.

President C. H. Rammelkamp, who has recently returned from a vacation of several weeks spent in Montana, has been questioned closely by his friends about the big bear stories, which emanated from the camp of the Jacksonville people. Mr. Rammelkamp is quite reticent on the subject and declares that he will leave the narration of the camp experiences to L. O. Vaught or George Govert, Jr., of Quincy, who expect to return about Oct. 1.

Mr. Rammelkamp does relate, however, that the party found a can which had been "cashed" among the rocks of Gunsight Peak, by Mr. Vaught, Ralph Dunlap and other members of the party who were there in 1905. Although ten years had passed Mr. Vaught took the company to the identical spot and there in good preservation were the names of the campers which had been written on paper and placed in the can.

The horse seems to be in good shape and now that it is all over Mr. Bourn has changed the name of his animal from Caesar to Submarine U-2.

"The Sign of the Cross."

Christianity fighting for its life and the stirring days of Nero's reign were vividly portrayed last night by Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer as she rendered her own dramatization of Barrette Winslow's "The Sign of the Cross." This romance of ancient Rome was first written in dramatic form by Mr. Winslow for his own perusal only and so far as known the original has been destroyed. From his drama, the novel was written and it was from the latter work that Miss Willmer's reading was taken.

Arousing of sympathy for the Christian martyrs, Miss Willmer explained, was not her object. The message of the reader and the author she interpreted were rather a challenge to Christians today. Let them remember the price once paid in blood for freedom to worship God. Let them remember sufferings undergone for religious liberty and prize today's privilege the more highly.

Miss Willmer's reading was preceded by another delightful season of music by the band, with a solo by Mr. Reid. Her powerful rendition of the English playwright's work made a fitting climax for a pleasingly successful day.

Monday Afternoon.

The best hopes of the management were realized yesterday when the afternoon session opened with the largest Monday crowd in Jacksonville chautauqua history. Jeffries band arrived for their first concert and though a few minutes late by reason of railroad delays, were in as good trim as if they had not just finished a long trip from Gallatin, Mo.

"Worry and Nervousness" by Dr. W. S. Sadler was a veritable revelation with its doctrine of hope and cheer and message of mental health in no way beholden to cult or fantastic creed. Dr. Lena Sadler and Anna B. Kellogg followed with an address of more than ordinary interest on the cause and cure of colds.

Every attraction up to date has been better than expected. On every hand in fact, have been heard expressions of pleased surprised and satisfaction with the various numbers. Visiting speakers have noticed and commented upon the quality and balanced character of the program as a whole. The management believe every program to represent a prime attraction of its kind and feel as confident of the success of entertainments to follow as those which have already appeared.

Staving Off Colds.

False pride, said Dr. Lena Sadler, may be numbered among the causes of colds and bronchial affections, and girls should be taught to realize that attractive looks and comfortable dress may well go hand in hand. Shivering in low necked dress and low cut shoes adds beauty not one whit.

Too much clothing the speaker scored as a fruitful source of colds. "Dressn o warmer for office work in a temperature of 70 than you would for 70 degrees of summer weather. Wear the same weight clothing practically the whole year through during hours of work. Bundle up when going out or to and from work. Few practices are more conducive to contracting of colds than habitual over dressing.

"Good companionship, good food, good church, a saving sense of humor, a good fad—acquire these and nervousness will vanish, worry never be entertained", said Dr. W. S. Sadler. "All that promotes one's peace of mind, that augments efficiency, that adds to the zest of daily tasks, turning duty to pleasure, are sure antidotes to the poison of worry and fear.

Fear in its various forms, Dr. Sadler classified under several heads. From ordinary forms of worry he went to neuresthenia. Psychosthenia he touched upon in discussing mental ills. Hypochondria he discussed as a tendancy all too prevalent and melancholia he characterized as a mental ill much more acute, the sufferer from which is nearing the dangerous yet unstable border between soundness of mind and stark insanity.

Sadlers' Morning Program.

People who heard Mrs. Kellogg and the Sadlers Monday morning will surely know more about the laws of health than before. Biliousness and indigestion was the theme of Mrs. Anna R. Kellogg and she handled the subject in a manner indicating a thorough knowledge of the subject and with a bright, vivacious manner which quickly won the good will of the audience. She told how she enjoyed her work of nursing the sick. She prepared a hospital bed, placed on it a subject, a lad who "died" for a sample, and then proceeded. A brief outline of her remarks is offered:

"Biliousness is caused by a failure of the eliminating organs to do their duty. The liver, the skin, the mucous membranes all have their functions to perform. Pure food and water are essential and we should drink enough water during the day to enable the eliminating organs to do their work. At least eight glasses should be taken by an adult each 24 hours. Bathe the patient in cold water, keep in blanket, use a Turkish towel and give a brisk massage with a mitten of Turkish toweling. Bathing is always god but a cold plunge is hardly to be recommended.

For Healthful Womanhood.

"The lungs should be wholly and suitably inflated. Breathe in as far as possible, expel the air and raise the abdomen several times daily and the result will be good. Take a walk just after breakfast.

"If constipated drink two glasses of water in the morning; before reciring eat an apple, skin and all. Prepare a girdle sixteen inches wide, first a strip of linen or cotton, next a strip of rubber and last two or three thicknesses of a blanket which may be an old skirt or a blanket torn in three. Bind this wet in water about the bowels for three nights. In the morning go to the bathroom, rub hard in cold water, lie down and raise the legs, the head, extend the arms and take various exercises. At breakfast take four or five figs, bran bread, fruit; for dinner eat fruits with some meats, vegetables. At supin a cup of water half an hour; add vegetables and the like.

"For acid stomach use hot applications, drink three glasses of water; eat spinach in milk, soups of spinach and other vegetables. An excellent article of diet is browned rice. Take a cup of rice wash it and soak it in a cup of water half an hour; add a cup of milk, steam an hour and serve with cream and sugar. Baked potatoes are a fine article of diet and baking is the best way to prepare them."

A Bran Bread Recipe.

Two eggs beaten separately.
Three-quarter cup of molasses.
A teaspoonful of soda.
One cup of sour cream.
Two cups bran.
One cup seedless raisins chopped fine.
One cup wheat flour.
One heaping spoonful of baking powder.
Stir and bake an hour.

The speaker paid especial attention to high heeled shoes for ladies and denounced them in unmeasured terms.

Prevention of Cancer.

Dr. W. S. Sadler spoke briefly on cancer. Cancer of the stomach is often preceded for a long time with some trouble of the stomach which we do not regard as cancerous till it is too late. Cancer of the breast and of the other parts may only be cured by an operation done in the early stages of the disease when all cancerous growth may be eliminated. False modesty should not prevent a lady from giving the matter immediate attention at the first appearance of doubtful symptoms.

Rheumatism, Bright's disease, appendicitis, pneumonia and many other ailments are all from the one bacillus and are absolutely infectious.

MAJORITY ON EAST STATE STREET PREFER TARVIA

Hearing Was Held Monday Morning After Council Session—Board Will Follow Wishes of Property Owners About Material.

Following the session of the city council the board of local improvement held a hearing on the East State street pavement continued from last Thursday. Quite a number of East State street property owners were present and none of them presented objections. All present were in favor of tarvia for the material, instead of asphalt which has been considered by the board of local improvement. The notices with reference to the proposed improvement were made up on the basis of the estimate and hearing previously held when the majority of the property owners asked for asphalt. Since that time *there seems to have been a change of sentiment, with the result that practically every person present yesterday expressed preference for tarvia, several of them mentioning small bricek as a second choice. The estimated cost of an asphalt pavement from Centenary church to the railroad tracks is $20,236, and it is likely that tarvia re-topping can be done for about half that amount. The property owners or representatives of property were called upon in rotation and expressed themselves as follows:

Dr. W. P. Duncan said that he had signed for asphalt but was now of the opinion that tarvia or small brick would be better. He believed that the present pavement would furnish a good foundation for tarvia and thought the work should not be done until next spring.

F. J. Garland expressed practically the same views, giving tarvia as his first choice and suggesting that the work be had next spring, as an effort to do it this year might carry it beyond frost time.

Oscar Gustafson, of the Jacksonville Monument company spoke in favor of tarvia as a material and spring for the time of year to do the work.

J. V. Kennedy, of the Jacksonville Manument company, mentioned some very satisfactory tarvia work he had seen at Quincy and Hannibal and believed that the life of the pavement and its noiseless features would strongly recommend it. He suggested that crushed gravel would be the best for foundation purposes.

John H. O'Donnell was in favor of tarvia and said that this material had been used on a part of Michigan avenue in Chicago and had certainly been well tested out there.

William Von Dach said that he was present on behalf of the C. B. & Q. railroad and that the road was in favor of the pavement and either of the materials mentioned would be satisfactory.

W .S. Ehnie said he had originally been in favor of asphalt but now believed that tarvia would give the most satisfactory results.

C. J. Peterson expressed himself in favor of tarvia and wanted the work done next spring instead of this year.

P. Bonansinga favored tarvia rather than asphalt.

J. E. Stice said that he believed tarvia would prove most satisfactory and that the work should not be done until next spring. He said that some of the walks ordered by ordinance some months ago had not been put in and that it would be well to have all that work attended to before the paving was done.

Otto Spieth said that he was in favor of tarvia but that next spring would be time enough to do the work, and that prior to that time the property owners would have a chance to see the tarvia on South Main street and to judge of it as a material.

W. B. Miser said that the street railway favored tarvia in front of their car barns on East State street. He had no comment to make with reference to the general improvement.

Rev. J. W. Crowe said that he represented 800 feet and was in favor of tarvia and of having the pavement laid next spring. He said the suggestion made by Mr. Cpieth respecting the South Main paving appealed to him. The speaker said that from Brown street east to the railroad in front of Passavant hospital traffic is very heavy and that he thought it would be advisable if the street could be widened at that point a foot or two. Rev. Crowe said that he had no prejudice in the matter—that that hospital was doing just as good work as any other, but he made this suggestion just for the benefit of traffic.

Mayor Rodgers said that he had messages from Dr. C. E. Black and Dr. J. R. Harker saying they preferred asphalt and property owners mentioned that W. D. Mathers, Mrs. Joseph Oswald, Mrs. Charles Price, Louis Piepenbring and Frank McKenny have all expressed their preference for tarvia. Some discussion followed with reference to the payment for intersections, several of the property owners stating that they did not think it fair that they should have to pay for this work. Mayor Rodgers explained that the city's financial condition is such that the improvement cannot be made unless the property owners pay for the intersections. The city attorney, John J. Reeve, made a statement with reference to a decision of the supreme court which makes it very clear that the board of local improvement has full authority to assess the cost of intersections to the property owners.

Mayor Rodgers indicated that since the majority of the property owners expressed a prefernece for tarvia that this would be the material chosen and the hearing was adjourned until next Monday so that the specifications may be changed from asphalt to this material. The mayor also expressed the opinion that there is plenty of time to have the improvement made this fall and that it is the desire of the board to hurry along this much needed improvement. He suggested, too, that any walks which have not been put down in accordance with any ordinance previously passed should be given attention. The hearing adjourned.

FORMALDEHYDE DEMONSTRATIONS

All are invited to call at the tent and view the demonstrations.

A small hole was burned in the roof and the damage probably will amount to $50. The property is owned by I. M. Bunce and is occupied by Mr. Goldstein.

SHOPPING.

Shopping is a sort of shadow buying indulged in by women. Man, who has no cash allowance except that made by his salary, buys with great recklessness, often purchasing an entire suit without looking through more than one store. Woman has to be more careful. She has to buy twice as much for one-half the money and usually does it. But it keps her busier than she would be if she earned the money herself.

No woman is a good shopper unless she knows what is in all the stores in town and the prices thereof. Otherwise, she might buy a handkerchief for 29 cents on Tuesday which might have been bought on a Monday at another store only a mile away for 28 cents. This would make her feel worse than the man who bought a six-cylinder automobile just before the eight-cylinder cars came out for less money.

When a woman goes through five stores in an afternoon, prices 137 articles and comes home with a spool of thread she is not merely enjoying herself. She is keeping tab on the store-keepers. The next week some emporium will mark 75 cent corset covers up to 89 cents and will hold a grand reduction sale which will crowd the store with eager buyers. But the Class A shopper will merely smile and wait until the financial bulge has subsided.

If stores did not change their prices so much women would be able not only to do their shopping but to stay at home occasionally and do the housework. This would save so much money at home that they would be able to buy twice as much. Moreover, the stores would be able to sell goods with half the clerks and would cut their prices so much that they would be able to sell more goods with less advertising—which would take away half the temptation to women who would then be able to get along with half as much as they have now—which would make them so prosperous that they would pay twice the present prices without question.

This sounds a little bit mixed, but not more so than most of the conclusions arrived at by political economists after studying the laws of supply and demand with earnest and reverberating care.

"MORNING GLANCES" (By Gosh)

The White Sox beat New York in an eleven inning contest, Monday, the final score being 4 to 3. The game was won by Joe Jackson who made a triple with Eddie Collins on first. It was the only hit the ex-Clevelander got, but it was most timely. Each team made one error and the Sox got nine hits to eight for the Yanks.

Fritz Maisel, third baseman for the Yanks got three hits Monday, one a triple. Maisel remarked some time ago if he ever batted three hundred he would steal one hundred bases in a season. Maisel is now batting above the three hundred mark and yet he has less than fifty pilfered bases to his credit. Fritz must whip up to make his boast good. He is now about twenty-five bases behind Ty Cobb and the Georgia Peach will have to hustle to get a hundred bases this year, though no one will be surprised if he does.

The Cubs and Phillie broke even Monday in a double header, the Cubs taking the first contest, 4 to 3, and the second being an easy victory for the Phillies by a score of 13 to 5. Fisher of the Cubs got a home run in the first game while Zimmerman got two doubles.

The Braves took another game from the Pirates yesterday by a score of 3 to 2. Snodgrass who has been a member of the Giants for several years appeared in a Boston uniform. He got a double and scored one of the Braves' runs.

St. Louis beat New York a double-a-header yesterday. Hub Purdue, who used to pastime for Vincennes in the Kitty league, was the rescue hero of the day. Hub relieved Ames in the seventh inning of the first game and stopped a Giant rally and in the second he rescued Robinson in the third inning with the bases full and again won. New York was kept from the pan after that while the Cardinals got four runs.

The Boston Red Sox made it a clean sweep at St. Louis Monday when they defeated the Browns by a score of 7 to 0. Hamilton was hit hard by the Red Sox, five of the ten hits being doubles. Gregg was master of the Brown batters at all stages of the game.

Pittsburgh in the Federal league shut out Kansas City yesterday by a score of 4 to 0. Allen held Kansas City to four hits while Main was hit hard by the Stogies.

St. Louis trimmed Chicago yesterday the score being 11 to 5. St. Louis bunned three Chicago pitchers while Willett who succeded Crandall was effective.

An Unimposing Genius.

Those who imagine there is some necessary connection between literary genius and inches will have to explain away the case of Alexander Pope. Pope was exactly four feet six inches high. He was humpbacked and deformed. According to one of Lord Oxford's servants, he was "so weak as to stand in perpetual need of female attendance; extremely sensible of cold, so that he wore a kind of fur doublet under a skirt of very coarse, warm linen, with fine sleeves. When he rose he was invested in a bodice made of stiff canvas, being hardly able to stand erect till it was laced, and he then put on a flannel waistcoat. One side was contracted. His legs were so slender that he enlarged their bulk with three pairs of stockings, which were drawn on and off by the maid, for he was not able to dress or undress himself."—London Chronicle.

An Easy Choice.

Bishop Sanford Olmsted said at a dinner party in Denver:

"The charge that the church is governed by mercenary motives is an insidious one. I think this charge was best answered by the prison chaplain.

"A chaplain was addressing a congregation of prisoners, many of whom had given more than one proof that they were profiting by his visits. But there was a certain rough, brutal looking fellow, who always scoffed and sneered. And today this fellow, when the chaplain greeted him, said:

"'No, I don't want to shake hands with you, parson. You only preach for money.'

"'Very good, my friend; have it so,' the chaplain answered. 'I preach for money. You steal for money. Let God choose between us.'" — Washington Star.

No Sunset For Five Days.

At the head of the gulf of Bothnia there is a mountain on the summit of which the sun shines perpetually during the five days of June 10, 20, 21, 22 and 23. Every six hours during this season of continual sunshine a steamer leaves Stockholm crowded with visitors anxious to witness the phenomenon. At the same place during winter the sun disappears and is not seen for weeks. Then it comes in sight again for ten, fifteen or twenty minutes, gradually lengthening its stay until finally it stays in sight continuously for upward of 120 hours.

No Case For Sympathy.

"You didn't award any damages worth mentioning in that breach of promise case."

"No," explained the foreman of the jury. "We decided that the plaintiff was lucky to get rid of a man who would write the fool letters her lawyer read to us."—Washington Star.

The Voice of Experience.

The new minister was holding forth.

"It seems to me," he said, "we should do more to bring the people together."

"Huh!" snorted the deacon. "If you'd been here as long as I have you'd know that what we need is something to keep 'em apart."—Puck.

He Got It.

Eva—As we strolled along he wagered a box of chocolates that I couldn't say the word "kiss." Belinda—And did you try? Eva—Yes, but he took the word from my very lips.

PIRATES BUY SLATTERY.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23—Pitcher Phil Slattery of the Central association club at Marshalltown, Iowa, has been purchased by the Pittsburgh National League club, according to an announcement tonight. He will report about September 6.

Edward C. Lambert is at home after a sojourn of two months in the north. He was a visitor in St. Paul, Minn., and in Evanston, Ill., at the homes of his daughter and son, and spent some time with the family of his son-in-law at the Palisade park, on the eastern shore of lake Michigan.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO WISCONSIN RESORTS

Dr. Young and Family Found Heavy Roads on Return Journey.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Young and son, Edward, returned at an early hour Monday morning from an automobile trip which took them to Wisconsin. They spent the greater part of the time at a lake resort about thirty miles north of Milwaukee. Returning they were in Milwaukee for a day and then drove to Chicago where they have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Vickery for three or four days. Saturday morning at 9:30 they started homeward and reached Dwight in the latter part of the afternoon. They remained there until Sunday morning, when the start was made again about 9 o'clcok. This was the hardest part of the journey as the very recent rains had made the roads extremely muddy in a number of localities. At several points the water was across the highway to a depth which brought it clear up to the running board.

At one place where the water was over the road for a considerable distance Dr. Young drove his White car in behind two other cars. Both of the cars finally stuck and the Young car was in the water for an hour and a half while the other two were being pulled out. When the Jacksonville man started his engine after that long period with the water clear up to the running board, the car made its way with little difficulty and landed safely. This was the last troublesome place until Springfield was reached.

On the road from Springfield to Jacksonville there were a number of very muddy holes and at a point near Berlin it was necessary to tighten the chains with pieces of wire fencing to keep them from slipping. In this way the car got through the worst mud hole. Jacksonville was not reached until one o'clock Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gay, who started to Wisconsin at the same time as Dr. and Mrs. Young are now visiting friends at Waukegan.

AT WESTMINSTER.

The Rev. W. I. Alexander, D. D., of Grand Island, Neb., occupied the pulpit of Westminster church, Sabbath morning.

Dr. Alexander took as his text the words: "He hath made everything beautiful in his time", from Ecclesiastes 3:11. From these words the speaker told a story of high interest to his hearers and held their closest attention throughout his sermon.

There was a good congregation, for the summer season, in attendance, and the minister made a distinctly good impression upon his auditors.

Mrs. Grant's Retort.

The Grant administration brought a brilliant throng of military officers to the capital, and the young people of the president's family—he had a daughter and several sons—made the White House gay. Mrs. Grant was plain in appearance, unpretentious in manner, but genuinely hospitable and quicker witted than she was generally given credit for being.

Addressed in French by a young diplomat at one of her receptions, she responded in English.

"Ah!" said the bumptious foreigner, attempting to be facetious. "Madame does not speak French? How surprising! In Europe all the ladies of the upper class speak French and generally two or three other languages besides."

"I know," said Mrs. Grant dryly, "and can understand why this must be on a continent divided into so many small kingdoms, some of them smaller than our smallest states, each speaking a different language, but in our great, united country, one language only is spoken from end to end of it. We need no other."

The abashed foreigner retired.—Exchange.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of thes ystem, which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, headaches, causing constant misery and as aresult despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. t goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.—Adv.

So Crisp

—and Delicious, too!

There are defnte reasons why the New Post Toasties are vastly superior in crispness and flavor to any other corn flakes.

In the new process of baking, intense heat raises tiny air "puffs" on each flake, bringing out a decidedly new and delicious flavor—the true flavor of the corn—unknown to the corn flakes of the past.

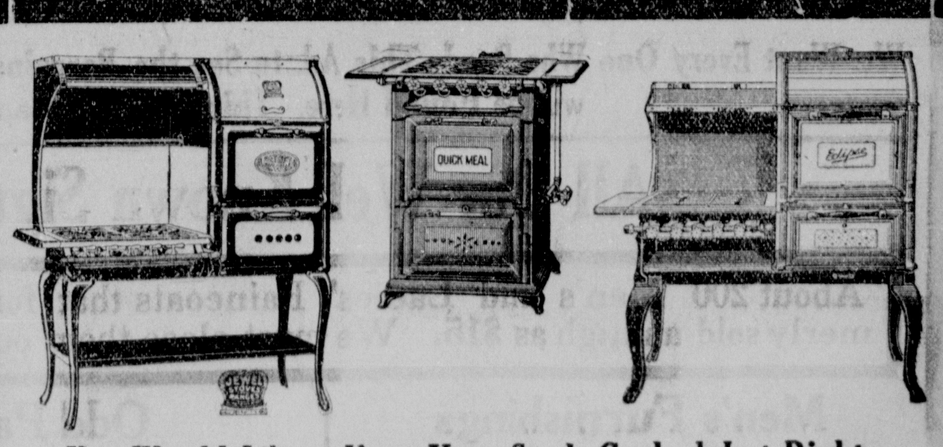

Owing to this new process the New Toasties maintain their crispness until eaten and do not grow soft and mushy in the bowl like other corn flakes.

The flavor is so delightfully pleasant that the New Toasties may be eaten and relished dry, though of course they are generally served with cream, rich milk, or fruit with a sprinkling of sugar.

Suppose you try the

You Would Like to Have Your Steak Cooked Just Right.

—Indeed you would. Think how difficult it is for the cook to perform such a feat after having wrestled with the coal pail, dirt, soot smoke and uncontrollable fire, and an unsightly kitchen range.

The preparation of a perfectly delicious steak or any other cooked, baked, boiled or broiled article of food, on the new gas range is another trick entirely. The fire is just right, just where you want it and when you want it and perfectly controllable and not accompanied with any of the above objectionable features.

You Will Want to Save on Your Coal Bill This Winter

No doubt you will Coal is going to be higher this winter than ever before The inevitable coal strike should be prepared for now. You can operate a gas range for one half the amount that will be necessary to buy coal for a coal range at even the present price of coal and the cost of a gas range is a great deal less than that of a coal range.

You Have Decided to Buy a Gas Stove If You Can Find a Good One At a Reasonable Price

A Joke on the Lynx.

Frequently during the winter nature plays a joke on the lynx. Mr. Lynx does his hunting at night and lies outstretched on some horizontal limb during the day. Some day, while the lynx is dreaming, the sun comes out bright and warm and softens the surface of the snow to such extent that when the animal climbs down and starts in search of his supper the soft snow collects in great clumsy balls on the long foot hairs. The lynx sits down and with his sharp teeth gnaws away the accumulated snow, gets up and starts on, only to find that the balls have collected again. Again he sits down, a little less patiently this time, and gnaws the snow away. In a short time it has accumulated once more. The infuriated animal tears at the persistent snow with his sharp teeth and wounds his feet until they bleed. You can often track the animal by the bloodstains on the snow.—Youth's Companion.

Oldest Bridge In England.

Harold's bridge, said to be the oldest bridge in England, is near Waltham Abbey, which the Saxon King Harold founded. It consists of a single arch of sandstone surmounting stone foundations and spans a little stream, the river Lea. Across this bridge King Harold is said to have been borne to his grave in the abbey churchyard after having been slain by an arrow at the battle of Hastings in 1066. The sides of the arch have crumbled away, but the central portion is intact and seemingly as secure as it was when constructed, more than 850 years ago.

The bridge is not in use today, but stands in a pasture adjoining the grounds of the ancient abbey, of which the chapel, now used as the parish church, and portions of the brick wall surrounding the grounds alone remain.—Springfield Republican.

A Gramophone Trick.

The neatest thing in gramophone tricks is to offer a bet to any member of the company that you can play a record without the machine. It is a perfectly straightforward matter, says the Strand Magazine. Take a lead pencil and a piece of note paper and explain that this is all you are going to use. Then fix the lead pencil into the hole of the disk so that it can be set spinning on the point like a child's teetotum. Fold a piece of paper, which should be thin and crisp, and hold the sharp point of the paper in the groove of the record very lightly, so as not to disturb the equilibrium of the spinning disk. The record will be distinctly played, only very faintly, of course, as you are substituting a somewhat primitive "producer" instead of the patent sound box.

Frohman's Generosity.

Mr. Heyman said to Charles Frohman one day:

"Do you know you are not doing right in sending money to all the people who write and tell you they are in hard luck? They may be imposing on you."

"There may be some that are imposing," Frohman answered, "but I know that there are others in want, so I can't afford to make a mistake."—New York World.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

EUROPEAN WAR SITUATION SENDS WHEAT PRICE DOWN

Talk Is Current of Anticipated Relief in the Export and Import Situation By the Opening of the Dardanelles.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The European war situation was the main influence today in sending wheat down. The close was weak, 1¼ to 2¾@⅞c lower than Saturday's close, with September at $1.00½ and December at 97¾@⅞c.

Corn closed at ⅛ to ⅜c net loss.

Oats were off ¾ to ⅞@1c.

Provisions were unchanged to 10c higher.

Talk was current of anticipated relief in the export and import situation by the opening of the dardanelles, which some observers of conditions are predicting as imminent.

Though corn was comparatively weak it held its own a little better than other grains because of a forecast of cooler weather. There was fair buying among commission houses.

Oats followed the weakness in wheat and though there was some buying near the close by shorts the undertone was easy.

Provisions were helped upward by a jump of 10 cents in hog prices and by active covering of shorts. Lard, weak at the start, gained a little later and held steady to the close.

STOCKS RECOVER COMPLETELY AFTER GENERAL DEPRESSION

Recovery in War Stocks Not Only Wipes Out Most Losses But Shows Actual Advances in the Final Hour

New York, Aug. 23.—Moderate irregularity, followed by general depression and a hasty and complete recovery marked the successive stages of today's stock market.

United States Steel opened with a sale of 15,000 shares at the minimum price of 70 or under last week's close but soon advanced to 71⅝, only to fall back to 67⅝ before midday. At that level supporting orders soon effected a sharp reversal and thereafter the stock manifested greater strength, again rising to 71⅝ and closing with a net gain of ¼ to 70⅝.

Trading in steel agregated 227,000 shares.

While steel was at its worst, the war shares began to crumble, losses ranging from 4 to 7 points. The recovery in these stocks was thorough, however, not only wiping out most losses but showing actual advances of 1 to 3 points in the final hour. This advantage was forfeited in part just before the close when prices receded from their best.

The efforts of the bears to capitalize the Arabic incident proved abortive, conservative Wall street falling in line with Washington's receptive attitude. Another factor of encouragement was the placing of additional large orders with the steel and iron companies and several excellent railway returns, including that of Southern Pacific company, which showed a net gain for July of $1,300,000.

For the first time in several weeks, London bought on balance in this market, although closing prices abroad were from 1 to 1½ points under last Saturday in the international list. Exchange on London was heavy and no developments of importance were reported in connection with the pending credit negotiations.

CAN'T SEE THE SIGNS.

A few days ago the park commissioners painted some of the seats in Central park white and placed on them a sign "For Ladies." Some of the residents who occupy the seats in the park evidently are near-sighted as they take possession of the seats as usal. In fact, one individual who sports an official title has been taking possession of the seats. The police department does not want to be hard on these individuals but if they persist in occupying the seats despite the paint and the signs some other steps will have to be taken.

An ulcerated tooth, a diseased tonsil, a scratch on the body admitting microbes and similar cases may produce these and other diseases.

An interesting round table followed and many questions were propounded by the audience and answered.

Chautauqua Notes.

Still the auto line is growing and the bettered roads in fact would justify a number even greater. The Hardin avenue road has been oiled and dragged as have roads within the park. All day Monday members of the park board were seen at work on the grounds. Much of the sward has been rolled, rough places in the roads filled and other improvements made.

The health exhibit continues to draw attention as does the display of rural school standardization and improvement. Among the tents erected yesterday were quarters for Newman's garage exhibit, and also for a checking booth. A hospital tent has been fitted up and nurses detailed to have it in charge.

In the display of rural school pictures is represented the first completely up to standard Morgan county school. Liberty school directors, west of Jacksonville, have consulted state standards and best sanitary requirements in making the plans for their new building, all rural schools in the state will have to meet the stipulations of a recent law designed for school improvements by 1917 and the Liberty school district is the first to take the step.

STOP SCALP ITCH AND FALLING HAIR

People whose hair looks dull and lifeless and who find it growing dry, brittle, splitting at ends and coming out fast at every combing need a genuine scalp invigorator and should get one without a day's delay. A little Parisian Sage rubbed briskly into the scalp with the finger tips twice daily will work wonders for hair of this kind. Just a few days' use and the hair becomes glossy and healthy looking, dandruff vanishes, scalp stops itching and hair stops falling out. Parisian Sage is more than a hair tonic. It is a scalp treatment and its use means strong, beautiful hair and a healthy scalp. Coover & Shreve and leading druggists everywhere sell Parisian Sage. It is not expensive.—Adv.

INSECT GERM CARRIERS.

Roaches, Ants and Even Bees Are Now Regarded With Distrust.

The investigations of recent years have disclosed the relations of insects to malaria, yellow fever, bubonic plague and sleeping sickness. The striking results already demonstrated in respect to the activity of mosquitoes, fleas, bedbugs and houseflies inevitably raises the question as to the possible significance of other species of insects which may be less abundant, but whose contact with man may be occasional or confined to restricted localities. The group includes cockroaches, ants and bees.

"That an insect which will devour any sufficiently soft substance, from human foods to glue, grease and water colors and which will live by preference in the cracks of the floors and walls of houses, bakeries, restaurants, sugar refineries and tanneries, where their bodies come into contact with the filth and refuse that necessarily accumulate in such places, should carry a host of germs about on and in their bodies and be able to infect our foods is certainly not surprising," says the Journal of the American Medical Association. "Yet this is the habit of life of the omnivorous cockroach. Roaches propably also feed on tuberculous sputum and disseminate the bacilli as readily as the housefly.

"Ants, which are often abundant in houses and are readily disseminated by commerce, sometimes become a pest to the housewife, particularly when they get into the stores of food. They have not escaped suspicion as disseminators of pathogenic micro-organisms. Wheeler points out that it thus becomes possible for ants to spread disease in different ways.

"Finally the bees, lauded for centuries by poet and prose writer alike, have not escaped the accusation of suspicion. Wheeler has observed the stinging bees visit collections of garbage in the canal zone, presumably gathering foreign substances, which they knead into the cerumen cells in which they store honey eagerly collected for food by the natives in many parts of tropical America. According to Wheeler, there are records of intestinal disorders or even death following the eating of such honey. The suggestion of possible contamination with disease germs collected by filthy insects is plain."

Tuning a Bell.

No matter how great may be the care taken in making the mold, a bell has to be tuned before it will ring a clear, true note. As a matter of fact every bell sounds five notes, all of which must blend together harmoniously. If one is the least bit out the tone will be spoiled. The first of these notes is produced by the vibrations at the mouth of the bell, the second by the vibrations a little higher up, the third still higher up, and so on to the fifth, which is produced quite near the top. As the character of the sound which rings depends upon the thickness of the metal, it is possible, by taking thin shavings from various places in the inside of the bell, to alter the five notes until they are all in harmony.

Old Time Cider Drinkers.

A century or so ago enormous quantities of cider were consumed in England, more particularly in the cider districts, where the drink is still popular. In his Cambridge reminiscences Henry Gunning says that in 1788, when he was a tutor in Herefordshire, he witnessed some extraordinary feats in cider drinking. Farm laborers were allowed to drink as much as they liked, and it was not unusual "for a man to put his lips to a wooden bottle containing four quarts and not remove them until he had emptied it." — London Spectator.

Cape of Good Hope.

In 1487 Bartholomew Diaz sailed far enough south along the western coast of Africa not only to descry but to double the cape of Storms, as it was then called, and as the coast was ascertained to run toward the northeast the prospect of success in the direction of India seemed now so clear that the Portuguese monarch renamed the cape "Cabo de Boa Esperanza," or Cape of Good Hope. The "good hope" was realized in 1498 by Vasco da Gama, who, doubling the southernmost point of Africa, sailed on to Calicut, thus opening up the long dreamed of route to India.

It Wasn't Going.

Sir James Barrie tells of Charles Frohman's reply to a cable message he received from France during the opening of one of his plays. It was from the French author of the play and read:

"How's it going?"

Mr. Frohman read it after the second act, when it was clear the play had failed, then replied:

"It is gone."—New York World.

Hope of Improvement.

"Do you think the world is getting better?"

"It ought to be," replied the man who worries a whole lot about his health. "There are more new medicines being invented every year."—Washington Star.

Vanillin.

Vanillin is the active principle which makes vanilla ice cream so popular. It occurs in the roots of oats and the leaves and roots of a number of plants. It has been found to be poisonous to clover, wheat, cowpeas and other plants.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE
By The Associated Press.)

London, Aug.—"On the whole, at the end of the first year of the war, medicine is found to have acquitted itself well," says the Lancet. "There has been an absence of epidemic sickness, and there has been no catastrophe from sanitary adults. On the principle that lives saved are lives gained, the efficiency of the medical service has meant a gain of many lives to the belligerent armies.

"In France the care of the wounded behind the lines has steadily improved, and the experience which has been gained of unfamiliar diseases and conditions, such as tetanus and gas gangrene, will be of the greatest value in the future. There have been several smart epidemics of typhoid; but neither in the English, French or Belgian ranks was the disease ever allowed to make grave headway. During the winter months there was much suffering from exposure, but chief cause of disability was 'trench foot.' There was less pneumonia and rheumatism than expected.

"Concerning the Russian medical service, the information is most satisfactory, though some apprehension was at first felt about it. The difficulty was not the personnel, but the distances. But the devotion of voluntary effort and of civilan medical men have overridden the difficulties; the organization has been excellent, and the Russian army has been able to show a good bill of health through a terrible year.

"The story of Serbia is a triumph of preventive medicine, and the United States and England between them may lay claim to credit. None of the stories of the terrible plight of the Serbians from typhus exaggerates the state of things. But the grip of the disease has been made to relax, and the medical outlook is now hopeful."

Calcutta, Aug.—The loss of revenue to the government as a result of the prohibition of opium is shown in a blue book just issued here. In 1912 the net revenue from opium was over $25,000,000. In 1913 it dropped to $22,500,000. Last year it was less than $3,000,000.

Berlin, Aug. — Eight farmers have just been tried before the Potsdam criminal court for an offense created by order of the Federal Council some months ago—that of sowing grain too thickly. It was charged that they had sowed more than 110 pounds of oats per "morgen" (about 3-5 acre, whereas the limit is 37 1-2 pounds. The defendants joined in declaring that their swampy moorland required more seed, partly because of the character of the soil and partly because a considerable part of the seed was eaten by the phesants from the adjoining hunting preserves of a prince. The minimun fine of three marks each was imposed.

London, Aug.—Trafalgar street, in the southeastern part of London, boasts the highest proportion of recruits of any street in England. Although there are only 150 houses on the street, there are 175 members of Trafalgar street families serving or fallen in the war.

It is not an opulent residential thoroughfare, but is part of the estate of Lord Llangattack, and consists of neat little houses built to the same pattern and rented for about $4.50 a week. The residents are practically all workingmen's families.

Brussels, August—The City Council of Brussels has begun taking a census of all unemployed workers within the city limits, and the National Relief Committee will extend extend the plan to all parts of Belgium in German occupation. The object is to provide suitable employment wherever possible and to prevent skilled workmen losing touch with trade conditions.

The German authorities have given their permission to the census, which will include all unemployed persons between the ages of 14 and 40.

According to officials of the relief committee, there are at present 57,000 employes of the National Railways out of work, while 73 per cent of workmen in the metal industries, clothing, carpentering and building trades are without jobs. It is expected that the census of these people will be of great value at the end of the war.

As the census progresses, steps are to be taken to send the unemployed, who cannot be otherwise placed, to schools, elementary schools being provided for the illiterate and technical schools for those prepared for instruction of this character. Teachers for the schools will be largely provided from the upper class of workmen.

In all Belgium it is stated that there are about 700,000 men and women out of work who formerly had steady employment. German Socialists have taken the lead in urging the provision of relief for these people.

London, August 1— The British War office has taken advantage of the vacation season in the city schools to turn several of the buildings into cooking schools, where fifteen hundred soldiers are learning elementary principles of the culinary art. There are a hundred men billeted in each building, and they must provide their own food on the customary War Office allowonce of 40 cents a day. If they cannot eat the meals they prepare, they must go without.

"To cook rapidly and well is an art which can easily be acquired," says the War Office Manual, "and it is an art that every soldier should learn. At least eight men in every company must be taught to cut up meat and operatet field kitchens."

Amsterdam, Aug. — Although salt by old custom is regarded a contraband of war, yet in the present conflict it is against the interests of the Allies to consider it so, and there has therefore been an effort to prevent the enforcement of this part of the contraband laws.

The Dutch fisheries use large quantities of salt, all of which is imported. When England insisted on the letter of the law regarding these importations, Holland is obliged to buy from Germany and Austria, which have a large surplus. It is urged that the German salt industry is thus assisted by English detention of salt-laden steamers bound for Holland. Moreover, the more salt is extracted from the German mines, the more potash is produced, and this is ancessary constituent in the manufacture of certain explosives.

full right to have done their duty to the Fatherland. One family in Anslet has ten sons in the field; a widow in Segberg has nine sons and two sons-in-law at the front; nine sons of a beer dealer in Schoenberg are with the army, as are eight sons and two sons-in-law of a family in Hellschen. The total is forty soldiers for the four families.

FORMALDEHYDE DEMONSTRATIONS.

Dr. Karl Gruenwald of the Perth Amboy Chemical Works, one of the speakers on the farm program at the chautauqua, has a tent on the grounds where he will demonstrate the use of formaldehyde on the farm and in the home—as a preventive of diseases of grains, plants and vegetables—as a disenfectant and in the fight against flies. All are invited to call at the tent and view the demonstrations.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL.

PATTERN RECIPES

HENRIETTA D GRAUEL

Certain fruits and vegetables seem to group themselves together when the time to prepare them for the table comes, and sometimes it is quite possible to use one recipe for a great number of foods. When this is the case the experienced housekeeper scorns a cookery book or any rule of thumb; if articles are to be picked or mangled or presrved, presto, and they are done with just a little tasting and trying to be sure the flavor is right.

But the newly-wed and inexperienced housekeeper must have sample or pattern recipes, that have been perfected by some one else's failure and success, to start their culinary career by and these we are glad to give.

Below are directions for spicing and pickling and tomorrow recipes for preserving late fruits will be published.

A request for quince honey flavored with orange has been received, and if any reader has had experience with this nature will she kindly send in her method?

Spiced Canteloupe—The melons should not be too ripe. Remove the seeds and rind; cut into stripe. Weigh, and to every seven pounds of fruit allow four pounds of sugar, one pint of white vinegar, one half ounce of ginger root, grated, two teaspoons of grounds cloves and the same quantity each of cinnamon and allspice.

Heat the sugar and vinegar quickly, as vinegar must never cook slowly or it loses its aroma. Tie the spices in muslin bags, leaving room for them to swell, and add them.

When this syrup is boiling put in the melon strips and again bring to the boiling point. Shortly the fruit will be transparent and tender. Remove at once and pour into earthenware jars. Next morning drain off the syrup; reheat it and again pour it over the melon. Do this each morning for seven days, when the syrup will be rich, thick and spicy. At the last heating include the melon strips.

Pickled grapes, peaches, watermelon rind, sickle pears and all-spiced pickles are delightful made thus.

Pickling—The spices, vinegar and brine used in pickling should be selected with care and used with utmost discretion. Pure cider vinegar is always best unless it is an object to have the finished product clear white when finished. In such case the white wine vinegar is selected.

Spices should be fresh each year. For cabbage, onions, green tomatoes, green peppers and string beans you will find celery salt, mustard seeds, horseradish and black pepper an excellent seasoning mixture.

The brine need not be heavier than one pint of coarse salt to two quarts of water. If a small bit of alum be added to the brine after the pickles are in it scum will not rise and the pickles will be firm. Horseradish root cut in slivers is preferred by some housekeepers for this same purpose.

Green Tomato Pickle—Two gallons green tomatoes sliced, twelve onions sliced, two quarts vinegar, one quart sugar, two tablespoons of salt and the same amount of mustard, pepper, allspice and cloves.

Mix all together and cook, stirring often until tender. Seal white hot in glass jars.

Tomorrow—Preserving late fruits.

DR. SPURGEON HOLDS MIRROR TO AMERICAN LIFE AND WAYS

Discusses United States From Viewpoint of an Englishman at Chautauqua Sunday—Directors Make Appealf or Pledges.

American good points and American shortcomings were discussed in interesting manner by Dr. Spurgeon of London Sunday afternoon at the chautauqua. The sermon Sunday morning was given by the Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, and both afternoon and evening musical programs of merit were given by the Albers Octette.

Dr. William Spurgeon was introduced by Chairman Bancroft as a relative of the famous Dr. Charles Spurgeon, who had gained renown on his own account. Dr. Spurgeon's address was of more than an hour's length and was based upon his impressions of America from an Englishman's standpoint. He has been a resident in this country for eleven years and has traveled so extensively that he is familiar with American life in all parts of the country. He has filled the pulpit of some of the most prominent churches of the country and has given a great many public addresses. But recently he has returned from abroad and made reference yesterday to the awfulness of the European war. He spent some time in Belgium and there came into very close contact with the horrors of war. It is possible that he may return to Jacksonville at some early date and make and address with the war as his theme.

Great Britain at War.

Dr. Spurgeon referred to the position of England in this conflict and said that England was fighting not "for a scrap of paper" but for the national honor and for the safety of Belgium. The speaker referred facetiously to the fact that England gave us her best blood many years ago and that in reality England made this country. He went on to say that if he had been a resident of America at that time and an effort was made for taxation without representation, that he would have been one of the first to join in the Boston tea party. He spoke of the marvelous advances which this country has made and of our great area, but said it was well to remember that the United Kingdom owned one acre in every five on the earth and had one man in every five in its population.

After giving many compliments to the progressiveness and energy of United States citizens, Dr. Spurgeon commented upon the need for repression of our hustling spirit, which he said made men old at fifty and worn out at sixty. He said that Americans need more rest and more sleep and that greater accomplishments would follow if proper attention were given these things.

England's Way With Crime.

In a spirit of friendly criticism the speaker pointed out the technicalities which interfere with the enforcement of law in this country and decried the crime record in our larger cities. He said that records showed that ninety-eight per cent of the murderers in this country escaped punishment. He quoted statistics for the year 1911 to show that in the city of Chicago, with a population of two million, there were in that year 245 murders and that a comparatively few of the criminals were convicted and punished. The same year he said that in London, with a population of seven millions, that there were but seventeen murders. Three of these offenders were declared insane, three committed suicide, and the remaining eleven were hanged. He said that he was not in favor of hanging but that in England people knew that if they committed murder they would certainly be executed, and with the result that they did not commit murder. Further statistics were given to show the delays which come in the course of our law enforcement.

Efficiency in Farming.

Dr. Spurgeon commented on the fact that the average yield of wheat in this country is fourteen bushels and the average yield of corn twenty-eight bushels, and said that the doubling of this showing could easily be made by scientific means and the accomplishment of this very matter constituted one of our greatest needs. In closing the speaker referred to the growth of the temperance movement and commended the American people for the steps taken for the suppression of the American saloon, which he said was the greatest detriment to civilization in this country.

Directors Make Announcement.

A sum of four thousand dollars must be guaranteed to assure the chautauqua for next year, according to statement of the directors Sunday afternoon. Before Dr. Spurgeon's address, Chairman Bancroft and Dr. Black made talks in which was brought out the necessity for prompt subscription. Guarantors will be asked to subscribe in dollars and not in tickets. Those subscribing to pledges will be held to contract, though persons removing from the community permanently will be released from obligation.

An effort will again be made for 4,000 tickets at $1 each. If subscriptions total $3,000 at the dollar rate, $1.50 will be charged and if subscriptions total less than $3,000, the rate per ticket will be $2.00. All subscription cards must be signed by an individual. The name of an organization alone will not suffice.

The Address Sunday Morning.

"Therefore, whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them", Mathew 7:12, was the text of the Rev. Myron L. Pontius Sunday morning at the chautauqua auditorium tent when he addressed an audience of goodly size on "The Old Gosper for a New Age". One central fact stands out in the news of the day, said the minister. Swiftly and surely we are entering a new age, the nature of which we may not yet know. Transition everywhere brings us to the question of the old gospel's efficacy for this age of change.

"The golden rule is the old gospel", said Mr. Pontius, "because all the fundamental teachings of Jesus rest upon this great truth. The civilization of the new age is assured when we recognize the truth of the golden rule and become the peaceful, loving servants of the race".

A novel three part program was given by the Albers Octette Sunday night. Ante bellum days, the war time and the present day were depicted in song and by suitable costume.

MISS EDITH LUCILLE ALKIRE WEDS ELMER B. POINDEXTER

Marriage Takes Place at Home of Bride's Parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Alkire in Bloomington Last Night.

The marriage of Miss Edith Lucille Alkire and Mr. Elmer Brigham Poindexter, was solemnized Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Blomington, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Henry S. Alkire, the father performing the ceremony, in the presence of forty relatives and friends. The attendants were Miss Nellie Biederman and Mr. Innis B. Alkire, a brother of the bride.

The house was artistically decorated in asparagus and flowers, a floral arch having been constructed under which the young people stood while the marriage took place. The bride wore a gown of soft white silk, trimmed in net and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the valley.

The young people entered the parlor while Mr. Orville Ross played the wedding march from Lohengrin Miss Faye Alkire, a sister of the bride, sang "Love Thoughts," a composition by Mrs. W. P. Duncan of this city. The troths were plighted in an impressive manner by Rev. Mr. Alkire, pastor of Park M. E. church, Bloomington, who closed the ceremony with a fervent prayer for the happiness and prosperity of the young people.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alkire, and she has a great many friends in Jacksonville, made here while her father was pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church. She is an accomplished young woman and her many friends have learned to admire her for her amiable disposition and lovely ways.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Poindexter, who reside south of Bloomington. He attended Wesleyan university, and is a young man of energy, industry and splendid habits. He is a farmer by occupation and after a week's visit with his relatives the young people will reside in a newly built bungalow on the Springfiled road, where they will be at home to their friends after September 10.

Following the marriage light refresments were served, the colors pink and white being carried out in the menu. Among the out-of-town guests was Miss Ruth Buttenham of Champaign.

ELECTION ORDINANCE PASSED BY COUNCIL

People Will Vote September 21st on Question of Old Form of Government—South Main Street Paving Ordinance Passed.

The Monday session of the city council was of longer duration than usual occasioned by the fact that the election ordinance was given a second reading and also the ordinance for the paving of South Main street from Morton avenue to the square. Both of these ordinances were adopted. Following the reading of the minutes, reports were called for from departments. Mr. Cox made a statement with reference to work being done on sewers and Mr. Vasconcellos reported on conditions at the north side staton where high water occasioned a great deal of difficulty the latter part of the week. The pumps were out of commission but work has now been resumer there and Mr. Vasconcellos said that the loss in supply at the reservoir during the period of shut down had been made up. He also mentioned the completion of some repairs on the Hamilton engine at the light plant.

The ordinance fixing the election on the change to the aldermanic form of government was read and the clerk is to give due notice of the election, which is to be held on Tuesday, September 21. The ordinance providing for the paving of South Main street from Morton avenue to the square with tarvia was given a second reading and adopted.

Mayor Rodgers said that he would appoint W. B. Rogers as commisioner to spread the assessment for this improvement and it is the intention to push the work rapidly. Mayor Rodgers called attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the crossings of the Wabash railroad at North Main street and North Church street, and said that they required early attention. It was the sense of the council that Commissioner Marion take this up with the Wabash and that later Commissioner Cox co-operate in seeing that the work is satisfactorily done. The council then adjourned.

MARRIED MORE THAN HALF A CENTURY

Mr. and Mrs. John Trotter Quietly Celebrate Their 54th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trotter of Sinclair precinct pleasantly recalled the fact that yesterday was the 54th anniversary of their wedding though no formal celebration was attempted.

Mr. Trotter was the son of David and Jane Trotter, and was born in Indiana, May 24th, 1830, and is consequently 85 years old though he is much more active than many persons a quarter of a century younger. His parents moved to this vicinity when the baby was but six months old so he has no personal recollections of the early part of his life spent in the Hoosier state. The family settled in the vicinity of old Princeton, now obliterated, and Mr. Trotter has spent practically all his life in this vicinity.

Miss Lavina Mingle was born in this city and was the daughter of Peter and Sarah Mingle and has several relatives residing about here.

August 23d, 1861, they were united in marriage, at the home of the bride, by Rev. Joel Goodrick, of such fragrant memory and with the exception of a year in Sangamon and two or three in Cass they have lived in this county ever since. Some years ago they bought 80 acres of land a mile and a half northeast of Sinclair and put it in fine order and are quietly spending the evening of their days there.

Their children are Ellsworth of Cass county; Mrs. Vinetta Basey of Waco, Texas; Mrs. Wilamette Dyer of Rineor; Fred of Sinclair, and Dottie Riggs at home. They have thirteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Trotter is twelve years younger than her husband and is as active as almost any young girl, doing most of her work herself, attending to the chickens and general affairs about the place.

Their friends hope to have the worthy pair here a good while yet. They returned recently from a visit and family in Waco, Texas.

GOLF LINKS NEW FEATURE NOW AT NICHOLS PARK

Six Hole Course Laid Out Monday—Standard Rules Will Govern Play.

Local golf enthusiasts enjoyed their first game on Jacksonville's public links on the completion of the new six-hole course at Nichols park Monday, when F. E. Farrell and J. W. Hubble defeated Dr. Dinsmore and T. J. Brennan, park commissioner, 4 up. Joseph Gomes, park commissioner, acted as caddie for the defeated team and Felix Farrell, Jr., for the victors.

For some time there has been a desire for a public course at the park, and just a few days ago the mayor and members of the Park Board met some players at the Park, when the matter was thoroughly discussed and the board voted to put in a course.

Monday F. E. Farrell, J. W. Hubble and Dr. Dinsmore went to the park, and laid out a six-hole course. The tee for the first hole it at the northwest entrance to the park and the hole is 285 yards south. The fourth hole is placed 100 yards south and the fifth back north along the west side of the tennis courts and the distance is 190 yards. The tee for the sixth hole is at the rear of the custodian's house and the hole 220 yards west. The distance for the entire course is 1,150 yards and the links have been laid out so as not to interfere with either pedestrians or vehicles.

Rules will be gotten up by a committee appointed by the park board and it is probable that children under 16 years will be permitted to play before noon and the remainder of the day reserved for those older. Standard rules will govern all play on the course.
